Muslim families were allegedly told to vacate houses by Holi

The delegation had visited the colony on Tuesday and spoke to affected families. They found that some families had already left the village while others had sent away their children.

The report prepared by the delegation expressed urgency and anguish that streetlights were not installed even after three days when the incident. And that the Delhi Police had not tried to identify any of the rough 50 men that had threatened the families. A large chunk of the unauthorized colony is in the Baghpat district, but a few houses are in Delhi.

The Delhi High Court on Wednesday said it would hear on Thursday a plea seeking directions to the government to issue empowerment cards for covering traffic violations on the spot.

The plea was mentioned before a bench of Chief Justice D.N. Patel and Justice C. Harsh Mander which agreed it be heard on hearing on Thursday.

The petition stated that after the September 2019 amendment in Motor Vehicle Act, public is facing difficulty in complying with the challans issued to them for traffic violations as the violators cannot pay the penalty on the spot and they have to approach the court or make online payment on virtual court (traffic) website.

Due to this, the courts have been overburdened and people have to wait for long period.

The plea said that if the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 2019, the penalties for traffic violations have been reduced multi-fold and the Delhi government’s traffic department has not notified the authorized officers and the compelling fee.

COVID-19: govt for universal screening

The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare has issued a notification for universal screening at all institutions where treatment for COVID-19 is carried out, as a precautionary measure.

Emphasis on timely detection

The notification aims to ensure that all COVID-19 patients receive early detection and timely treatment. It requires health facilities to conduct screening tests on all COVID-19 patients, including those with mild symptoms.

Screening protocols

The screening protocols vary depending on the severity of the symptoms. Patients with mild or asymptomatic cases will undergo a rapid antigen test or a Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR) test, while those with severe or critical conditions will receive intensive care.

Monitors and alerts

Health workers will be responsible for monitoring the patients and alerting the treating physician if there are any signs of deterioration. The notification also emphasizes the importance of timely reporting of cases to health authorities.

UN body's CAE move may be unartificial, but govt must abide by its equal protection duty

The long-drawn-out deal between the United States and the Taliban in Doha last Saturday ended with a surge in violence and a statement from Zalmay Khalilzad and former Taliban elusive leader Mullah Abdul Ghani Baradar. On the same day, UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres welcomed the signing of the deal, despite the protests from all. After all, most of the 40-old pixels argue that the CAE failed to extend the equal protection of law to all, including women, children, and refugees. The US-UN Security Council is not seeking to be a partner. On the contrary, the United States is the winner of the premier UN bodies in aid of the Court. Therefore, it must be noted that the Court has not relied on principles, context, or the substance of the CAE judgments. The most obvious question is whether the UN High Commissioner ought to be given an opportunity to assist the Court in its work. And so, the Court will continue to be difficult for it to be on the UN's side.

SC asks HC to list Delhi riots cases on March 6

“Want to see if peace is possible,” Chief Justice Loya had said.

At one point during the hearing, Naga Chaitanya, the decision to revert the petitions to the High Court was made. Justice Loya asked Justice Chelameswar to decide if FIRs could not be registered outside the premises of the ‘Centre’.

Justice Chelameswar said that if the situation in Delhi was serious, they would not be a problem to register the FIRs.

SC’s conclusion

The Centre had earlier contended that the registration of FIRs in the court may lead to a flare-up of violence. The petitions in both Houses of Parliament were adjourned for the day after Loya.

As for when the court was resuming, Social Media PAC chairperson Justice Chelameswar said they would take the decision in the morning.

The court said that if there were a flare-up of violence, the Centre would be presented before the court.

By then, the court adjourned the hearing to March 6.

Despite the Centre’s failure to implement a ban on social media websites in February, the court said that it would not be a problem if the Centre had to present the case in March.

The Centre then adjourned the hearing to March 6.

When the Lok Sabha re-convened, the Bill was passed by a voice vote. The Opposition members remained silent.

When the House met at 2 p.m., the government moved to get the tax dud penalty bill passed. The Centre had introduced another Bill re-earmarked for correction of the tax dud penalty bill, which has 107 seats, to subvert its government.

The Bill was welcomed by all the members of the Opposition, but the Bill was not discussed.

Unadkat fires Saurashtra into final

Ranji Trophy

A fiery opening, a fluent 89 from Jaydev Unadkat and an unbeaten 37 by Chirag Gandhi saw Saurashtra beat Gujarat by 11 runs in the third day/night evening in Mumbai to seal the Ranji Trophy Quadrangular title. Unadkat was once again the match-winner with a century. The win guarantees Saurashtra a place in the Ranji Trophy final for the first time since 2013.

The match was reduced to three days due to heavy rain on Wednesday, which meant that Gujarat needed to win by an innings and 40 runs to keep the title race alive. Despite a strong 55 by Parthiv Patel, Saurashtra's bowling unit kept Gujarat at bay on both days. On the final day, Unadkat's 103 not out saw Saurashtra home with ease.

Former World and Olympic champion Abhinav Bindra emphasised that adapting to situations and preparing well for competitions was part of an athlete’s routine, and that the current uncertainty caused by the outbreak of the coronavirus, was an added challenge before the Tokyo Olympics.

“Those who accept the challenge and adapt well, will be successful,” said Bindra. Addressing the media at the launch of the sixth ABTP centre in Gurugram, he also added the technology and knowledge both for athletes and normal persons, to be made available for non-athletes also. It will be interesting to see how potential translates into medals, observed Bindra.

“Among the athletes, we will be well prepared. Some of them have the experience of competing in the Olympics. It will be tricky for them to prepare in this new situation, but again a way to fight back. Hopefully, we will be successful,” said Bindra. Addressing the media at the launch of the sixth ABTP centre in Gurugram, he also said, “Some of our centres are able to fight back and be well prepared. Some of them have the experience of competing in the Olympics. It will be tricky for them to prepare in this new situation, but again a way to fight back. Hopefully, we will be successful.”

Bindra said that the approach was to make the person strong by tackling emotional, nutritional, mental and neural attitude, so as to make the person deal with anything that affects good health.

Bengal displayed commendable resilience to overcome tight situations time and again. Lal and his players ran well for 25 rounds. There was a lot of criticism, he ignored the criticism and spoke from the heart. He knows everyone understands his methods and it is up to the players to make it work.

Bengal’s march was an added challenge before the Tokyo Olympics. The foundation of the tournament was laid in the pre-season. Since July 25, the players have gone through rigorous training to be ready for bigger challenges.
